

Prof. SURELA RAJ K.
Designation: Professor, Head of the Department email: ksurelaraj@lbc.edu.in

Prof. Surela Raj K. holds an M.A., M.Phil., and Ph.D. from Andhra University, all achieved with first division honours and also got qualified SLET in 1999. Additionally, she has a diploma in French and PG diploma in Linguistics. Having secured state 5th rank in her 10th class, she has built a distinguished career with 20 years of teaching at Dr. Lankapalli Bullayya PG College and 6 years of experience at the intermediate level.

She has actively participated in three international seminars and three national seminars, demonstrating her commitment to contemporary academic discussions. She has completed a workshop on language and a Train the Trainer programme conducted by the Andhra Pradesh State Council of Higher Education (APSCHE).

Her scholarly contributions include the publication of six research papers, reflecting the passion for her area of study which is American Fiction of 19th century. Prof. Surela Raj as the Head of the Department of English (PG) and a teacher continues to inspire and educate students, fostering a dynamic learning environment.