

DEPARTMENT OF ENVIRONMENTAL STUDIES

COURSE OBJECTIVES

The Environmental studies helps to increase public awareness of the problems in this field as well as possible solutions and to lay the foundation for a fully informed and active participation of the individual in the protection of environment and the prudent and rational use of the resources.

- It provides case studies from Indian and global scenario to explore real life problems.
- To bring eco friendly attitude students are exposed to important environmental activity field observation and team activities
- To Recognize major concepts in environmental sciences and demonstrate in-depth understanding of the environment
- To develop analytical skills, critical thinking, and demonstrate problem-solving skills using scientific techniques.
- Students will develop standards of professional behaviour that include rules of ethics and etiquette.

DEPARTMENT OF ENVIRONMENTAL STUDIES

PROGRAMME OBJECTIVES

- This programme caters to graduates who desire to build their professional competence on a higher plateau with specialized knowledge in the field of competitive exams and research.
- The curriculum is developed duly considering the desired level of knowledge exposure in the context of ever changing environment in global business.
- To pursue a professional career and/or further higher education in the specified areas of specialization
- To enhance employability and to be able to take up challenging job assignments
- To nurture the students in intellectual personal, interpersonal and societal skills with a focus on career.
- To improve knowledge in the areas of environmental degradation and problems.
- To give the information on the advanced technology and progress made in the ecofriendly attitude.
- To make the students competent in project work activities.
- To organise, important world environmental days and awareness programme.
- To encourage students in plantation ,polythene usage problems ,awareness campaigns etc
- To encourage the students for competitive exams and entrance exams and also encourage to get select in the campus drive.